SATURDAY EVENING. JUNE 8, 1901.

FATAL FIGHT WITH A MOB.-Ike Williams, a negro, who four months ago cut a small white boy's besd off with an axe in a swamp near Carrollton, Ga., had a narrow escape from lynching. The negro was convicted of murder and was to have been hanged yesterday, but the judge indeficitely postponed the hanging. As soon as the news spread a mob gathered in front of the jail and demanded the keys. Sheriff Joseph Merrill, with a posse, re-fused to give up the keys, and ordered the mob to disperse. Instead of doing this they broke in the jail and demanded the keys to the part of the jail in which the negro was confined. These being refused, they endesvored to break in the door. The sheriff and posse then fired on the mob, killing George Bennet and wounding two others, the father of the victim and an unknown man. Sherthe victim and an unknown unit star-iff Merriil was badly injured, as were two or three others of his posse. The sheriff immediately telegraphed the governor, and the latter ordered eixty militiamen to the scene on a special trein. The mob attempted a second attack on the jail before the arrival of the troops, but a sharp resistance on the part of the posse dispersed them. Immediately on the arrival of the soldiers the page owe hurried to the train. diers the negro was hurried to the train, and although there were angry cries from the mob, there were no attempts at armed resistance.
